A fantastic weekend at Myrtle Point with bright sunshine, balmy temperatures and mild breezes (70 to 80 knots) saw the highest attendance in recent memory as shooters chased the Mast Memorial Buckle awarded to the shooter with the highest total score on the 400 handicap targets shot in May and August. The 2019 Mast Memorial Handicap Buckle winner with a score of 351x400 was, for the second time, Krystal Schindler. Krystal joins an elite and small group of multiple time winners with a five-bird margin over her closest rival.

Club President Ken Humbert had a great day Saturday with a 98 at singles for a class win and a field-leading score of 92 in the doubles, his new lifetime best doubles score. Ken led all shooters at the end of the day on Saturday on the combined 300 target score.

Dan Schindler earned his way to the 25.5 yard line on Saturday with the winning score of 92 in the 'caps and followed up on Sunday with a field-leading 91 to bounce another yard to the 26.5 yard line. Congratulations to both members of the Schindler family for a great weekend performance!!

Dan shared Sunday's handicap laurels with Mac Robertson who earned an honorary yard from the back fence for his 91.
